The screenshot shows the Google Translate interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Google Translate' and a 'Sign in' button. Below this, there are tabs for 'Text', 'Documents', and 'Websites'. The main interface has a language selection bar with 'SPANISH - DETECTED' highlighted in a pink oval, followed by 'ENGLISH', 'SPANISH', and 'FRENCH'. The input text 'Alcor' is entered in the Spanish field. The output field shows 'Alcor' with a dropdown menu open, displaying 'Alcor' (checked) and 'height' (altura). Below the input field, there's a section titled 'Definitions of alcor' which identifies it as a 'Noun' and provides a definition: 'Elevación natural del terreno de poca altura y de bordes suaves.' with an example sentence: 'subió hasta el alcor donde anidaban los somormujos'. It also lists a synonym 'colina'. At the bottom, there's a section titled 'Examples of alcor' with the same example sentence: 'subió hasta el alcor donde anidaban los somormujos'.
